

McAdoo Fight Is Growing Hotter

His Opponents for Democratic Nomination for President Using All Tactics to Defeat Him But Cannot Agree On Candidate—Fight May Kill Off Both McAdoo and Smith—Klan Fight on Floor.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, June 23.—To the accompaniment of blaring bands and shouts of conflict in every quarter, the main body of delegates to the Democratic national convention gathered into New York today to find little lines tautly drawn, an atmosphere surcharged with tension and political dynamites, and axes being dustily sharpened by managers of a dozen rival candidates.

Fighting Fatal to Both.

They found William G. McAdoo the focal point of most of the strife and fighting grimly to hold the acknowledged lead he now has in the matter of delegates; they found the forces of Governor Al Smith aggressively confident and pursuing delegates in a business-like efficiency that belied ill for rival aspirants; and behind these two leaders they found a steadily growing sentiment that the end neither McAdoo or Smith will be the nominee because of the very savagery of their fight. They found, too, an undeniable rift toward other candidates promoted by the conviction that McAdoo and Smith will "kill each other off."

"Bir Four" Dark Horses.

Twenty-four hours before the convention finds a "big four" among the dark horses—John W. Davis of West Virginia; Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana; Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama; and Carter Glass of Virginia. Except Ralston are on the ground, and their managers are working the delegates against the time when a much feared "break" comes in the ranks of McAdoo and Smith. Rumors and reports of "breaks" in the McAdoo and Smith ranks already have begun to float about the hotel lobbies where the delegates sit anxiously and ask for the news.

Rumors of McAdoo Losses.

Smith's managers were smilingly quiring whether it was true that in Texas, Iowa, Missouri and Michigan, McAdoo was losing strength and faced with a hard battle to keep his margin of control in these delegations. There were even reports that McAdoo had lost out in Michigan and Iowa, two large delegations which have been banked on McAdoo's managers, internal dissension has risen to such a degree that both delegations may split into many individual units and dissipate their strength among half dozen candidates.

McAdoo Claims 24 in New York.

Heated denial met these reports in the part of the McAdoo contingent. McAdoo's managers characterized such reports as "defeatist propaganda" circulated by the Smith camp and they promptly countered the claims that "when Smith has run his race" they will break into the New York delegation itself for at least 24 votes to add to McAdoo's western and southern strength. They made similar claims concerning the Louisiana delegation of twenty and the big Pennsylvania delegation of seventy-six which have been counted for Underwood and Smith.

Using Ku-Klux Klan Issue.

Smith managers say McAdoo has been placed on the defensive in this fight against delegates. Using the Ku Klux Klan issue as a battering ram, the Smith-Underwood coalition has carried the fight to McAdoo and has showed tactics they have made it appear that the anti-Klan plank even to the point that he cannot stand on a platform that contains such a declaration.

Assures Klan Fight on Floor.

Edmond H. Moore, of Ohio, who successfully put over James M. Cox at San Francisco four years ago and who is now among the anti-McAdoo leaders here, asserted today that there are 590 votes in the convention pledged to an anti-Klan plank, irrespective of what it is. If the plank is silent on "straddles" to the Klan issue, he said, a minority report will be brought in and assured of passage. A majority is 550.

McAdoo May Control Majority.

These plans were completed at midnight conference held at the Biltmore last night and participated in by all of the anti-McAdoo strength of the convention—Governor Smith, George Brennan, of Illinois, Joseph M. Guffey, of Pennsylvania, Norman F. Mack, of New York, Fred Lynch, of Minnesota, and several others who are interested in the candidacies of Underwood and Ralston.

There was a careful re-checking of figures at this conference, and when the count was completed renewed assertions were made that McAdoo had been stopped. They concede him between 400 and 450 delegates, and the first three ballots, and a possibility of his attaining 550 by the sixth or seventh. But under no circumstances which they consider conceivable do they believe he can get beyond 610. That, they believe, is the absolute maximum for McAdoo and it is still 122 votes short of nomination.

McAdoo Fears Stampede.

The principal danger the anti-McAdoo forces confront is a stampede. They recognize that any candidate who gets a majority of the convention at any time is an exceedingly dangerous person, but proceeding on the theory that forewarned is forearmed, they have consolidated their "battalion of death" into what they believe unbreakable lines.

Weakness of McAdoo Opponents.

The chief apparent weakness of the anti-McAdoo coalition is that they have succeeded in concentrating on no candidate. They have a common purpose—to stop McAdoo—but the common man to whom they can throw their strength remains to be developed.

Smith's strength is, of course, the foundation of their structure. He is assured of anywhere from 250 to 350 votes in the early balloting, depending on the favorite son showing, and he is easily capable of running up to 450 in the first ten ballots. But Underwood has some of this anti-McAdoo strength. So has John W. Davis. So has Samuel M. Ralston and other less imposing figures.

The McAdoo managers were quick today to point out this weakness and in it they saw their chief hope of breaking the coalition.

"They cannot concentrate on any one and it is this weakness that in the end will defeat them," said Homer S. Cummings, of Connecticut, one of McAdoo's "board of strategy."

Deny Considering Second Choices.

With this situation prevailing on the eve of the convention opening, both Smith and McAdoo managers were constantly engaged in denying rumors that the business of "second choices" is receiving any consideration. Despite the denials, however, the supporters of John W. Davis and Oscar W. Underwood both were claiming that when the showdown comes the Smith following will be found flocking to their banners. There is considerable Davis strength and Underwood strength in Smith's delegations.

McAdoo May Favor Glass.

On McAdoo's part, David L. Rockwell, the director-general, asserted heatedly that the matter of McAdoo's heir had not even been thought of. But this was belied by the story circulated among the arriving delegates of a meeting between McAdoo and Senator Carter Glass, whose Virginia delegation of 24 is instructed for him "to the death."

At this meeting Senator Glass is understood to have said: "If you come within 24 votes of being nominated you will be nominated. To which McAdoo is said to have replied:

"That is very nice of you senator and in return I will say that if I see I cannot be nominated I will swing every vote I can to you."

GROSS'S CAR BURNED ON ROSENDALE ROAD

The Overland car of Nathaniel B. Gross, real estate and insurance agent at 574 Broadway, caught fire through ignition Saturday night while Mr. Gross was running it on the Rosendale road near the Black farm. Everything but the chassis was destroyed by the fire. Efforts to save the car were made by the occupants and people from the neighborhood and Mr. Brazee who lives on an adjoining farm by throwing water on the flames, but without success. Mr. Gross and party were brought to town by Mr. Brazee.

McAdoo Speech Widens Breach

Disagrees With Him—Bryan May Come to His Aid—Governor Smith to Reply.

The bitterness that has been so apparent all week between the McAdoo and Smith camps, was heightened today by a speech which McAdoo delivered late last night to some 600 of his friends and supporters at the Vanderbilt Hotel. He assailed New York as a "citadel of privilege, sinister, corrupt and unscrupulous," and attacked the New York newspapers as being "unfair" to him.

Berates Invisible Government.

He told his hearers he would like to speak extemporaneously but that in view of the "pronounced unfairness" of New York newspapers he did not dare to and he then proceeded to read a prepared paper attacking the "interests" that are opposed to his candidacy and stressing what he believed to be the paramount issues of the campaign—railroad reform, tariff reduction, defeat of "invisible government" at Washington by the "interests," etc.

Peeved at Newspaper Truthfulness.

McAdoo's attack on the New York press was in retaliation for an almost constant bombardment which he has been subjected to since his arrival here. He has been referred to as "Doheny's lawyer," as "Charles W. Morse's lawyer" and his record of legal appearances before government departments following his retirement from the treasury has been reviewed at length in a highly uncompromising fashion.

Its effect on the delegates has been problematical but it has enraged his managers and friends. They are writing letters to the newspapers protesting against this "unfairness and lack of hospitality" and blaming Governor Smith's forces for inciting it.

Big Fireworks in Convention.

So intense has the feeling become between the McAdoo and Smith camps that there seemed an excellent prospect of forensic fire works in this convention next week.

Bryan Sees "Eye to Eye."

William J. Bryan, a delegate from Florida and instructed for McAdoo, had a long conference with McAdoo soon after his arrival here. They see "eye to eye" on the question of "sinister, corrupt New York" and if this occasion arises Bryan is prepared to gain the floor and speak his mind about it. He may repeat his famous 1912 speech at Baltimore, in which he assailed the New York Democracy as "Ryan and Belmont owned" and proceeded to read these two millionaires out of the party.

"Dressed and Waiting."

"I hope," he said, "there won't be any need of such a thing but I am ready for it if necessary. I'm like a fireman dressed and waiting for the bell."

Bryan also observed that he believed McAdoo would be the nominee. The opposition to McAdoo was described by Bryan as being "Wall Street and big business."

"Every kick from Wall Street is a boost," he said.

"Not to be outdone by anything that the McAdoo-Bryan coalition cooks, the Smith camp is prepared for just such a contingency."

"All May Defend the Ship."

Governor Smith himself is rated one of the best rough and tumble orators in the party and if necessary his friends said he would not hesitate to take the platform to repel boarders.

Every Prospect Pleases.

The prospect of a roughhouse debate between W. J. Bryan and Al Smith, the two opposites in the party, was one that excited the imaginations of delegates and managers alike today.

MINOR AUTO ACCIDENTS SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Several minor auto accidents were reported to the police over the week end:

Daniel Freer of 280 Abell street riding a bicycle was struck at Broadway and McEntee street by an auto and his wheel damaged.

William Baglivi while driving off the Rondout creek bridge was struck by a truck of Gildersleeve going toward Wilbur. Both cars were slightly damaged.

William Hutton's Chevrolet was struck by a Chevrolet of Thomas Trethewey of Poughkeepsie and slightly damaged.

Edward L. Elmendorf of 14 St. James street reported that a car of Mortimer B. Klunkenstein of New York city ran into his car at Linderman avenue and Wall street, damaging it.

William Vandemark of Washington avenue was struck by another car which did not stop. Mr. Vandemark's car was rammed into a fence and slightly damaged.

Cars Collided at Saugerties.

Joseph Mulligan of this city, ran into the Nash touring car of Joel Emerick of Blue Mountain, and the Chandler touring car of Joseph Hoosdik of Barclay Heights, Saugerties, Saturday afternoon about 7 o'clock, on Partition street, Saugerties. The Nash touring car of Percy Martin was also run into at this time, and the left and right fenders and running board of the car were badly bent. The Nash car of Emerick and the Chandler of Hoosdik, which were parked near the curb also had the hub caps ripped off and the fenders bent on the left side.

Burglarize Two Alb'ny Av. Homes

Some time Sunday evening thieves broke into the home of William D. Delaplane at No. 208 Albany avenue and stole $30 in money and some silverware. How entrance was obtained to the house appears to be a mystery. The same night thieves broke into the house of George C. Wolven at No. 348 Albany avenue, and stole $3 in money. Entrance was obtained through a kitchen window. Both burglaries were reported to the police department.

Jail Prisoner Carried a Gun

John Barkley, a Negro, Sentenced to Jail for Public Intoxication, Had Small Revolver Concealed in Crotch in Trousers Several Days Before Found.

John Barkley, a negro, was held to await the action of the grand jury Saturday afternoon by Judge Harry E. Schirick on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, and bail was fixed at $1,500.

Barkley had been arrested several days prior to that by the local police department and sentenced to twenty days in the county jail on a charge of public intoxication by Judge Robert G. Groves. Barkley had been in an inmate at the jail several days before it was discovered that he had the revolver concealed in the crotch of his trousers. The revolver was a small one of German manufacture.

Wore Decoration Of the Black Eye

Nell Tierney of 197 Abell Street Said the Emblem Had Been Conferred on Him by His Father-in-law—Given 30 Days in County Jail.

Nell Tierney of No. 197 Abell street, wearing the "decoration of the black eye," was arraigned before Judge Robert G. Groves in police court this morning charged with being drunk and disorderly at his home Saturday evening.

"Where did you receive that eye?" asked Judge Groves.

"My father-in-law handed me that," replied Nell as he rubbed it tenderly.

"From the police report of the arrest, Tierney was drunk and threatening his wife when Officers Camp and 'Sime' Wood were hurried to the house. In a car on the street was found Tierney's shot gun. He explained he was going away on a hunting trip. In the house was found a revolver, but it was learned he had a permit to carry one. He also had a hunting license for the shot gun."

Judge Groves decided that the best place for Nell for a while was a thirty days' visit to the county jail, and sent him there.

Speeders, Drunks And Other Cases

Motorcycle Cops Round Up a Number of Week-End Speeders—One Arrest for Reckless Driving—Several Drunks Face the Judge.

Forrest Burnett of Haskell, N. J., forfeited $20 cash bail by failure to appear before Judge Robert G. Groves in police court today to answer to a charge of reckless driving preferred against him by State Trooper J. A. Murphy, who found Burnett trying to make a turn in Abell street while running abreast of another car.

Ernest Ferraro of Glasco, was arrested charged with driving the Glasco auto at a speed of 31 miles an hour on Sunday. This morning in police court, A. J. Cook, who appeared for Ferraro, entered a plea of not guilty and the hearing was adjourned to Wednesday.

Louis Ferraro of Glasco, arrested for driving to the left of a trolley car, paid a $5 fine.

St. Mary's Church To Be Remodelled

Men of the Congregation Met Sunday Evening and Pledged $10,000—Canvas Will Be Made—Jennings Co. Awarded Contract.

A very enthusiastic meeting resulted Sunday evening, at St. Mary's School Hall, when the pastor of St. Mary's Church, the Rev. Joseph B. Scully with a large number of the men of the parish assembled to formulate plans for the remodeling and the making of necessary repairs to the church.

The program of work for reinforcing the foundation and beautifying old St. Mary's as outlined by Father Scully was heartily endorsed. The sum of $10,000 was pledged during the evening, which bespeaks the success of the coming drive for $75,000 among the parishioners and the former members, who still consider St. Mary's Church and Father Scully, their parish and pastor. The majority of pledges given Sunday evening were $100. Two were $1,000 and a like number for $500 each.

The completion of the priests' rectory and the building of a convent for the sisters was also discussed and met with the same amount of enthusiasm.

Wednesday evening at St. Mary's Hall, there will be another meeting of the men of the parish to organize teams to make a canvass of the parishioners and the former parishioners. The amounts to be solicited will cover a period of a year, the payments to be made at the convenience of the donors.

The Rev. Father Scully thanked the men for their ready and noble response and expressed his delight for the manner in which the parishioners responded for the beautifying and embellishing of the house of God.

During the course of work at the church, services will be held at St. Mary's School Hall.

The contract for the work was let to the James A. Jennings Company of New York city, being the lowest bidders. A consultation of the pastor, the trustees of St. Mary's and the council of the Cardinal decided upon the Jennings Company.

The Jennings Company is reputed to be one of best construction workers of this time, having successfully completed work on schools and churches in New York city and New Jersey.

Following are the amounts bid by contractors: John Elsler Company, $98,420; Frank J. O'Hare, $97,631; Thomas J. O'Reilly and Son, $91,000; B. C. Weekes Company, $82,125; Michael Campbell Company, $74,118; P. H. Wakeham Company, $69,954; and James A. Jennings Company, $69,678.

Oil, Corruption and Agriculture

Democratic Platform Makers Reach Tentative Agreement Setting Forth These Issues in Which All Concur—Indications of Split on Ku Klux Klan—May Nominate Candidates Before Adopting Platform.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 23.—The Democratic presidential campaign this fall will be fought with the oil scandals, official corruption and agriculture relief as the main issues under terms of a tentative platform adopted here today by an unofficial group of nationally known Democratic leaders.

The document, prepared in advance of the national convention, will be submitted to the convention's committee on resolutions tomorrow with indications that few changes will be made by the official platform builders.

Unanimous Except On Klan.

The conferees, led by Cordell Hull, Democratic national chairman, and Homer T. Cummings, chairman of the resolutions committee, reached a decision to keep the League of Nations out of the coming campaign as a national issue and to leave the final verdict on a Ku Klux plank to the convention itself. On all other issues the conferees were virtually unanimous in their recommendations.

Ignore League of Nations.

The verdict to ignore the League as a national issue was reached after a bitter factional row between the conferees in secret session. The decision, however, followed directions by western spokesmen who formerly endorsed the League, that its revival would lose the west to the Democrats.

Supporters of a league plank, including a new proposal for American adherence, however, served notice they would carry their fight into the committee on resolutions, and if defeated there, on to the floor of the convention. This fight will be led by Newton D. Baker and Senator Carter Glass, both cabinet members under former President Wilson.

May Use Wilson Appeal.

It was reported that Baker and Glass were ready to use a platform memorandum, prepared by Mr. Wilson before his death, to influence the convention. In this memorandum, the former president was said to have urged an outright appeal to the Democratic party to again stand by the League as a national issue. The League since, incidentally, provoked a "split" in the ranks of the unofficial platform builders. It was learned that Senator Glass, who was chairman of the platform committee four years ago, "walked out" of the sessions after his League recommendations were rejected. It was also said Glass would refuse to serve upon the committee on resolutions this year so that he can lead a fight on the floor of the convention for endorsement of the League.

Klan Plank Causes Trouble.

The Ku Klux Klan issue also provoked heated discussions in the unofficial sessions. A small group, representing New York and Illinois, demanded the inclusion of a plank directly denouncing the Klan by name. This proposal was rejected by the conferees but tentative approval was given to a plank declaring in favor of constitutional guarantees for "freedom of speech" and "religious liberties." This plank, which contained a clause declaring for "continued separation of the state and church" did not meet with unanimous support and a "gentleman's agreement" was reached to let the full committee on resolutions write its own Klan plank.

No Conviction Without Trial.

There were indications too that the anti-Klan group would carry its fight against the Klan into the convention itself if defeated before the resolutions committee. The conferees, nevertheless, decided that to openly condemn the Klan would be to "convict it of treason without the constitutional guarantee of a trial by due process of law."

Honesty in Government.

The chief plank in the tentative draft was one dealing with "honesty in government" and bitterly flaying the Republican administration for the senate's scandal.

Plank For Western Farmers.

The agriculture plank, upon which the Democrats expect to win the west, promises a reduction in freight rates with the lowest rates given to bulky farm products, easier Federal credit facilities and steps towards a revival of European markets.

As additional agriculture remedy the plank declared for a complete revision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law.

Reorganize Freight Rates.

A railroad plank was approved by the unofficial conferees declaring for a reorganization of the freight rate structure. This would be accomplished by charging lower rates on cheap, bulky raw materials and higher rates on concentrated manufactured articles. The Esch-Cummings law also was condemned as a failure and its repeal or amendment urged.

The tentative draft, as now prepared, must in turn be submitted to the committee on resolutions which will be organized tomorrow. After the official platform makers act, it must be submitted to the convention itself for final approval. With the exception of the League and Klan issues, all other planks undoubtedly will be finally written by the committee.

Nomination May Precede Platform.

There were indications today the committee would not complete its work before Friday or Saturday with a possibility that the platform would be delayed until after the selection of the presidential nominee.

Remind McAdoo Of Teapot Dome

Tells Western Delegates They Come East to Dedicate a Trust—Tells Them to Stick to the Last Ditch.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 23.—Dedicating himself anew to the "recovery of this government from privilege and debauchery," William Gibbs McAdoo today greeted the delegates from the western states and exorted from them a pledge to stick with him in his efforts to secure the Democratic presidential nomination "to the last ditch."

Last We Forget.

As McAdoo launched into his attack on moneyed interests and class rule, some one in the crowd yelled: "Don't forget Teapot Dome, Mac."

"You bet I won't," McAdoo, shouted. "We'll soak the Republicans for this dirty scandal from now to election day."

The demonstration for McAdoo was spontaneous and impressive. Stepping from the "McAdoo special," delegates from nine western states, headed by California, and preceded by two bands, paraded to the Vanderbilt hotel. McAdoo made his appearance on a temporary platform built out of a first floor window and before the demonstration had subsided traffic was completely blocked.

To Dedicate a New Trust.

The Californian again paid his respects to the "hostile press of New York." He was asked by his audience against statements that McAdoo delegates after the first few ballots would go over to another candidate. "Never," shouted the crowd. "We're with you to the last ditch." "That is right, my friends," McAdoo replied. "You didn't come here

Peter Schuyler Folks Entertain

Local Peter Schuyler People Entertain Members of the Albany Plant
—Two Ball Games at Athletic Field.

Saturday witnessed the second field day of the present season of the Peter Schuyler family when the members of the G. W. Van Slyke & Horton plant of this city and those of the Albany plant indulged in two baseball games on the Athletic Field,
followed by refreshments and dancing in the factory. The first field day was held at Poughkeepsie on Saturday, June 14, when the Poughkeepsie plant entertained the members of the Kingston plant.

Before a packed grandstand and crowded sidelines on the Athletic Field, the girls of the Kingston plant defeated the girls of the Albany plant by 22-7 in a thrilling game of indoor baseball. Following this game the same crowd cheered lustily while the local Peter Schuyler team crawled out on top
with a 7-6 verdict in a well played game of baseball. The Albany Peter Schuyler team, leaders in the Capital district commercial baseball
league, and their highly rated
pitcher, Knapp, formerly of the Albany Duns, failed to offset the magnificent pitching of Ploskie,
backed up with sparkling plays in the field.

After the games the members of both plants joined with vigor in the refreshments and dancing in the gayly decorated plant.

The manager of the local team
wishes to thank the officials of the Y. M. C. A. for the privilege of the use of their dressing rooms and pool.

THE POLKA DOT. A SUMMER ENTRY.

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

With a general interest in printed fabrics, unabated enthusiasm for sports clothes, and an omnipresent
craving for something different,
along comes the polka dot to add variety and the spice with which variety is credited.

The debut of the polka dot was made cleverly; the eye becoming accustomed to it gradually through the occasional glimpse of a bright lining. It was frequently chosen to line
cape-back suits, or, for that matter,
to line straightline coats. Red crepe boldly dotted with white was the choice of one smart model maker
who has considerable prestige—this coloring being used indiscriminately
in navy, beige and gray suits, and even in white. The more conservative combination—navy, dotted with white—finds sympathetic response,
and forms another link between feminine and masculine attire; men
being very partial to light blue ties
dotted with white.

It is in scarfs and draped hat
bands for sailors and sports hats,
that the real feeling for polka coin
and polka dots is evidenced. Scarfs
of this genre are comparatively new,
and are refreshing after the many stripes, plaids and geometrical designs worn. True, the newest scarf is plain, with, perhaps, a border of contrasting color, but the polka-doted scarfs must be given their just due.

The golfer who sets out in a white fiber one-piece dress, such as is sketched, with tiny squares of red,
is "top-hole" when it comes to at-

PROPYLENE IS LATEST ANESTHETIC DISCOVERED

Can Be Administered Without Injury
From Poisonous Property of Gas, Says Savant.

New Orleans, La.—Discovery of a new anesthetic was announced by Dr.
John T. Halsey, professor of pharmacology and therapeutics at Tulane
university, in a paper read before the Orleans Medical society.

The anesthetic is propylene gas,
contained in some natural gas, and which Doctor Halsey and his laboratory assistants, Chapman Reynolds and Harold B. Cook, the three of whom discovered its properties, believe
can be manufactured from mineral oil. Doctor Halsey's announcement came after several months of laboratory work by his assistants and himself.

"Propylene is similar to ethylene,
the discovery of whose anesthetic
properties, announced last year in Chicago, was hailed with enthusiasm by the medical profession, and resulted in its extensive use in surgical cases,"
said Doctor Halsey.

Doctor Halsey said the apparent superiority of propylene was due to the fact that it was active even though considerably diluted with oxygen. An anesthetic depends for its usefulness
on its possible administration in sufficient strength to obtain complete
anesthesia, without injury from poisonous property of the gas, he pointed out. Oxygen must be administered mixed with the gas, and it therefore is essential that the anesthetic itself
be of sufficient strength to bring about complete unconsciousness, even when inhaled considerably diluted with oxygen.

Character Is Security for Loans to Students

New York.—Holding that the character of self-supporting college students is good security for loans, the Harmon foundation of New York has instituted a plan by which its funds
are lent to selected students with the expectation that the money will be repaid after graduation.

"The foundation does not lend money directly to students," says the United States bureau of education, in describing the plan, "but makes an arrangement with the presidents of certain colleges by which a stated sum
is assigned for the use of students.
When the plan is introduced into a college, a faculty committee of three
is appointed by the president, and students in the junior and senior classes
may apply to this committee for loans
up to the maximum of $250.

"An advisory committee is then elected from their number by the students chosen to receive the loans, and
this committee assists the faculty committee in choosing the beneficiaries
for the next year.

"All loans are to be paid in full
with 6 per cent interest. In addition, 10 per cent more than the amount actually received by each student is included in the note which he signs on obtaining the loan. This excess amount is used to make up losses
caused by nonrepayment of loans, and four-fifths of it is used to cover losses
incurred by defaults within the borrower's own group."

Bury Doll With Her

Denver.—A large doll, presented to

cherished for 77 years, was buried here

two, who died recently. The aged woman had requested that the doll be placed in the coffin with her body.

darker or brighter, than the dress.
A red hat, in the case of the frock
shown, would be much more effective than a white one, though both of course are in good taste. While white has been heralded for months
as the all-important consideration
for summer, experience is teaching
that it is smartest when liberally combined with bright colors; even white flannel coats being the smarter for colored linings. Red taffeta, plaided with white, was the choice
for lining one smart white flannel
coat; there being a matching silk
scarf and red hat.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

TOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

"Aunt Emmy," said Jane, "I wish you would make something clear to me. Last night Mr. Wilkins and Ted were talking about bonds. Mr. Wilkins said a lot about 'public utility bonds,' whatever that means, and seemed to think that they are the best things ever, so I thought maybe Ted and I might buy one with that $1,000 Daddy gave us for a wedding present, but I'd like to know more about them first."

"You have the makings of a financier, Jane," laughed Aunt Emmy, "since you have sense enough to stop, look and listen before you buy. I like public utility bonds, too—that is, good ones. They are bonds issued by corporations that serve the public with something useful, hence the name, public utility. The gas company, the electric light and power company, the telephone and similar companies are public utility corporations. Their business is based on real public needs, and it is also essential that they be well managed to be a good investment."

"Of course there are other bonds equally good. Always bear in mind that when you buy a bond you loan money to the corporation whose bond you buy. You do not buy a share of the business, as you do when you buy stock. The bond you buy bears interest, and this interest must be paid to you before the company can pay out a single cent in dividends. Nevertheless bonds must be carefully selected with the advice of someone who knows."

"How do you think one can know if a company is safe or not, Aunt?" asked Jane.

"Well, that is difficult. But I should say that if a company whose bonds you fancy has been doing a good business for ten years and has not failed to pay a dividend during that time the chances are that it will keep on doing as well unless something entirely unforeseen occurs. The best thing to do is to check up your own opinion with your banker. Once you have bought bonds if any corporation don't put them away and forget them. Seek your bank's advice from time to time and keep informed of the progress of the corporation you are interested in. If you see anything in the papers that alarms you in any way go at once to your bank and ask their advice about selling out and reinvesting in something else. Banks have facilities for keeping in touch with financial conditions, and they are always glad to help."—ANNE B. ATYES.

THE IMPORTANCE OF FOREIGN TRADE

For many decades we have produced a surplus of products of the farm that has been sold in foreign countries. As long as we continue to produce a surplus above domestic consumption, it is a prime necessity that there be a market for it. It is true that this surplus is but a fraction of our total production. Nevertheless, it exerts an effect upon the price of the entire output which is entirely disproportionate to its relative size. A country store-keeper may sell a hundred straw hats at a fair margin of profit, but the twenty which he may not be able to sell at all will wipe out the profit on the entire stock. The same thing is true of wheat, of corn, of any product of the farm.

It is true that we might exist without foreign trade, that we might depend exclusively upon domestic consumption. To do that, however, would require a complete reorganization of our whole commercial and industrial structure, a reorganization which would require years of time and which would entail losses beyond calculation. The more reasonable alternative is to take steps toward the restoration of a normal foreign market.—Walter W. Head, President American Bankers Association.

MEN AND WOMEN IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Above: MRS. ASA CANDLER & ASA G. CANDLER.
Below: REV. DR. PERCY S. GRANT & MISS PHILIP LYDIG.

Asa G. Candler, Atlanta, Ga., multi-millionaire manufacturer of coca cola, has filed suit there for a divorce from his bride of less than a year, charging cruel treatment and humiliating conduct. He married Mrs. May Little Ragin, a public stenographer, after breaking his engagement to a New Orleans society leader and winning a suit for $500,000 for breach of promise which she brought. Rev. Dr. Percy S. Grant, nationally known for his modernist interpretations of the Bible, has resigned from the pastorate of the Church of the Ascension in New York City. His engagement to Mrs. Philip Lydig was recently broken because Bishop Manning refused to permit the wedding on the ground that Mrs. Lydig had been divorced from both Lydig and from W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire sportsman. There is an unconfirmed rumor the wedding will now take place.

WHY BANKS?

LESSON IX

By J. H. PUELICHER, Chairman
Public Education Commission, American Bankers Association.

What means has a savings depositor to prove that he has deposited his money in a bank? A person leaving his money as a deposit in a bank is given a pass book.

J. H. Puellicher

PASS BOOK—A small account book in which is written down by the bank a complete record of the deposits and other credits, the withdrawals or debits and the depositor's balance.

DEPOSITS—Money left with the bank by the depositor or some one for him creating a credit.

CREDITS—Items representing deposits or other amounts which are credited, that is, added to the customer's account; interest earned by his money is also added to his account from time to time by the bank and is a credit just as money actually deposited by him.

WITHDRAWALS—Money drawn from the bank by the depositor, or by some one duly authorized by him to do so, creating a debit.

DEBITS—Items representing amounts withdrawn which are subtracted from the depositor's balance.

BALANCE—Difference between credits and debits.

It is best to deposit savings in a bank because your money is safe; it earns more money; a systematic record is kept; it stimulates more savings and your money is always available when required.

Marion Davies to Film at Stamford

New Film Drama in Which She Will Star Will Have Catskill Mountain Setting.

Stamford-in-the-Catskills, June 23.—Catskill mountain scenery, rich in historical legend, has been chosen as a background for a new film drama in which Marion Davies will star. About 30 members of the company are expected in Stamford, often referred to as "Queen of the Catskills," in a few days, according to Smith McGregor, manager of the Stamford Opera House, who has made local arrangements to accommodate the troupe.

Mr. McGregor stated yesterday that Scout Casting Director Jay Lewis stopped off here Friday in advance of the regular company, which is completing part of the film at Delaware Water Gap. After looking over the land of Rip Van Winkle he made advance arrangements for taking the film.

Mr. Utsayantha, rising high over Stamford, will probably be the scene of the mountain exterior the movie men are after. The title of the film is yet unnamed, but it will succeed "Janice Meredith," a period film of the Revolution in which Miss Davies stars.

Churchill Hall, largest of the 30 local summer hotels, will house the motion picture folk for a week or more. H. H. Mase, managing director, is cooperating with Mr. McGregor in completing arrangements. Members of the summer colony as well as townsfolk are likely to appear in the production, which is the first to be taken here.

ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, June 23.—Miss Sarah Taylor, who has been at Oberlin College for the past school year, arrived home on Tuesday and will spend the summer in Ellenville.

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles A. Dann, accompanied by their daughter, Charlotte, who was graduated from Oberlin College on June 12, and son, Charles A. Dann, Jr., returned to Ellenville on Friday, reporting a delightful trip through the west central states by automobile.

Miss Ellen Watson is at her home in Ellenville for some time. On Monday evening, June 19, after the regular moving picture show at Shadowland Theater, several acts of vaudeville presented by Jolly and Wild and "Tom Winters" were enjoyed by the unusually large audience. The presentation of "Hoosier Tailor" was especially enjoyed and generously applauded by the audience.

Miss Clara Count, daughter of the Rev. E. E. Count, was awarded a scholarship in music at Wellesley College last week.

The ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary are requested to meet at the hospital on Tuesday, June 24, at 2:30, to do sewing.

The twenty-first alumna banquet and reunion of the Ellenville High School will take place at Hunt Memorial on Thursday evening, June 26. The officers and the executive committee have made very elaborate plans for an unusually good time. There will be a dinner, entertainment and dancing. If any alumnus has not received his invitation he should communicate with Daniel F. Vanderlyn or Clyde S. Benson.

Auto Racing at Poughkeepsie

Hudson River Driving Park Converted into Auto Speedway Where Races Will Be Held July 4th.

After half a century as one of the most important eastern centers of light harness racing, the historic old Hudson River Driving Park at Poughkeepsie is about to become the scene of automobile speed contests. The first program on the track, which now has been converted into a banked mile speedway, will be held on the afternoon of July 4th under the auspices of the Atlantic Coast Automobile Racing Association. The meet, which has been sanctioned by the A. A. A., which has supervision over all of the big racing events in the country, has attracted entries from some of the foremost speed kings of the east.

The meet will be under the management of Jay Nichols, representing the A. C. A. R. A., who has managed many of the big eastern racing events in recent years. Mr. Nichols already has a large entry list which includes such well known drivers as Buell Alvord, the millionaire Boston racer, Sol Boberino of Italy whom Alvord has brought to this country to campaign on American tracks; Lou Pink of Philadelphia, who made his name in the auto world when he teamed Jess Willard for the latter's victory over Jack Johnson for the world's heavyweight title at Havana; Bill Albertson of Penn. Van, Louie Hoyt of Haverstraw, Ben Olson of New York; Art Barthold of Rochester; Jimmie Benedict of Katonah; Ben Donohue of Newark. Alvord will pilot a Pacer and Boberino a Frontenac, recently brought to this country, and Barthold will be behind the wheel of the famous Jimmie Murphy's 8-in-a-line Duesenbergs.

A full afternoon of thrilling sport is promised the motor speed enthusiasts who attend the races. The card includes individual mile time trials for each of the drivers, two five mile and two ten mile races. There will be preliminary heats for each race which will leave only two drivers in each final. The meet has attracted widespread attention, and it is expected that the largest crowd that ever gathered at the Hudson River Driving Park will be on hand on the Fourth.

All Stars Won At Millbrook

On Sunday With Stoudt on the Mound—Local Team Enjoys Swat-fest, Hitting 18 Safeties.

After losing Saturday to Poughkeepsie the All Stars defeated Millbrook Sunday, score 6 to 2.

The local boys had their batting eyes with them, getting 11 safeties off Potruna, who defeated them last week, and four off "King" Cole. Lynch had a perfect day at bat, getting four wallops, with Black and Carr getting three each. Hoffman, Vogt and Stoudt made their debut with the locals, helping them to victory. Stoudt threw his knee out of place in the seventh after holding them to four scattered hits. Cragin then went in, letting them down with but two safeties. Vogt had his finger split open in the eighth but continued the game, catching in excellent style. Potruna went to the showers in the seventh, "King" Cole taking his place. Cole defeated the White Plains Club Friday and recently beat the Red Sox Club.

The locals scored in the third, when hit by Black. Carr, Stoudt, Stumph and Vogt netted them two runs.

Millbrook got one in the fifth when Simpson, Cole and Ferry hit, Ferry getting a two bagger.

The locals came back strong in the sixth, when they gathered in four more runs on hits by Cragin, Sickler, Lynch, Hoffman, Black and Carr.

They put another run over in their half of the seventh, making their total two.

Millbrook tried to score in the eighth when Maroney got a double, Otis walked, Simpson got another hit putting three men on bases. The next three men went out, ending the inning. In the ninth they went out in order.

RHODE ISLAND LEGISLATORS IN POISON GAS WAR.

GOV. W. L. ELYNN, SEN. AUSTIN, SEN. POWERS & LIEUT. GOV. TOUPIN & RHODE ISLAND CAPITOL

Although the Democrats carried the State of Rhode Island, the Republicans held a majority in the Senate because of an old law which allows all cities one Senator. In a filibuster led by Lieutenant-Governor Toupin to change the law, the feeling became so bitter poison gas was emitted in the Senate Chamber in the Capitol. Governor William L. Flynn ordered arrests, but the culprits were not found. Senator Fred Austin, of Smithfield, and Senator John Powers, of Cumberland, are shown in conference with Lieutenant-Governor Toupin in an unsuccessful effort to end the filibuster.

made in Morning, Baseball and other Sports in Afternoon. Dance at Night—Inspection of New Fire Truck.

Active Hose Co. No. 1, and the village board of Rosendale are planning for a special celebration of the Fourth of July. On that occasion a new fire truck and chemical engine, purchased by the village, constructed by Samuel Herne, Sr., after approved plans, will be exhibited. It will be received by president of the village, Peter Egan, and given over to the hose company.

A special meeting to form plans for observance of the big event was held at the village fire department's rooms on Friday evening last, and was largely attended. William Egan, president of the village, presiding. It was arranged to have a parade at 10 o'clock, led by the Kingston band; field sports and baseball on Rosendale field at 2 o'clock, and a dance at St. Peter's Hall at 8 p. m. with usual admission.

The use of the hall has been kindly given by the Rev. Father O'Reilly, pastor of St. Peter's. The village board, in the interest of the citizens, has kindly granted a sum of money to defray expenses. Active Hose Company will also meet certain expenses. To add to the amount already contributed a Tag Day will be held, and voluntary contributions are asked for. The solicitors are Messrs Henry Hollmann and Samuel Egan. The ladies of the village will be asked to aid with refreshments in the evening.

Ostrich Legend "Bunk"
The ostrich does not hide its head in the sand when fear afflicts it. This, any rate, is the bold proclamation made by Vilhelmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, in an article in American Mercury. Nowhere has a responsible observer ever seen an ostrich thrust its head into the sand to escape fear.

The legend has persisted for nearly 2,000 years. Perhaps 2,000 years hence, despite all the naturalists and all the biologists, people will still believe that ostriches are as silly as Pinocchio.

Have You This Habit?
By Margaret Morison

APPRECIATION

THE most vivid remembrance of Adam Everyman's childhood was the melancholy occasion, the climax of many other such occasions, on which his mother, breaking down and weeping, had expressed the resentment of years of married life as she cried to his father, "If you only didn't always take things for granted!"

When Adam grew up he promised himself that at least he would never give his wife that cause for bitterness. So during his early married life he made a point of seeing and appreciating her efforts and sacrifices. The years passed. When the eldest of their three children was fifteen, Adam realized that their actual income, though ample, was not equal to the income he had planned for this point when contemplating matrimony.

Then one evening he pursued what now was his custom, and retired immediately after dinner with his newspaper and his cigar to the room that was called his "den." Contrary to custom his wife followed him. Then he knew suddenly how much water had flowed under the bridge since he had been married. For to her new dress that she had made herself and to the fact that this was the anniversary of their wedding—to all this he had been dully blind. He asked himself if a little appreciation might not help all round.

The next morning at the office Adam found his best salesman waiting for him. He made a point of mentioning an intelligent piece of business of the preceding month. The man looked pleased, but it was only later that Adam learned that this expression of appreciation had actually influenced the man not to accept the offer of a change from another firm. That same day Adam took pains to thank a customer for prompt payments, and the next morning a new order came in the mail. On another evening at home his small boy brought in a good report from school. When Adam put his pleasure into words his son looked surprised, but the next month there was a better report still. He became conscious above all of what life would have been to him without his home and of the impossibility of his home without his wife's dull daily routine.

After that there was no question of his appreciation and with appreciation it seemed as if a miracle had happened—so stimulating and successful was his work, so happy and full of pleasant possibilities his family.

The cause of the war among nations and of friction among individuals is egotism, and Adam Everyman had discovered one of the habits that save from egotism—the habit of appreciation.

Shad Season Poor Along the Hudson

Late Spring Delayed Arrival of the Fish—Only a Million Eggs Obtained for Planting.

By Telegram to The Freeman
Albany, June 23.—The season for the netting of shad in the Hudson and Delaware rivers which opened March 15th, and closed June 15th, was one of the poorest in the history of the industry. Usually the fish make their appearance in the lower reaches of the river in the early part of May, and in an early spring have even been taken on the opening day of the season. This year, however, the fish did not arrive in the river until after the first of May, and did not ascend the river as far as Kingston Point, the location of their principal spawning beds, until about May 25th. This meant only about 25 days fishing for fishermen operating in the lower Hudson and less than 15 days to those operating in the vicinity of Kingston and Saugerties.

Dredging Spoiled Spawning Beds.
Years ago shad were very numerous in the Hudson river, being taken in large quantities as far north as the city of Troy. The shoals and flats in the river lying west of the islands opposite the city of Troy afforded excellent spawning ground. Dredging long ago rendered these ground unsuitable for this purpose, and the fish have disappeared entirely from this part of the river.

Think Son Killed Parents and Self

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Langhorne, Pa., June 23.—Official investigation was begun today to determine the circumstances surrounding the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Gillan and the death of their son, Clarence, following the finding of all their bodies in their farmhouse at Woodside. State police believe the son killed his parents then took his own life.

Friends of the family who had not seen any of them since Wednesday, became alarmed Sunday and forced an entrance to their house. The body of Mrs. Gillan, half dressed, was found in an upstairs bedroom. The father's body and that of the son were in the dining room, beside a table on which a breakfast had been partially laid out. It is believed that the mother was shot while Gillan was in the barn and then the son waited for his father to return and sit down at the table before shooting him. All three were killed with a single barreled shotgun which was found beside the body of Clarence. Physicians had warned Mr. and Mrs. Gillan some time ago that their son was likely to become violent because of mental troubles developing from worry over crop conditions, friends said.

SCHOOL DAYS

Something to Think About
By F. A. WALKER

THE BESTIAL PART

WHETHER in the quiet of the home or in the whirl of the noisy world, the bestial part of you is ever striving to pull you down to his level.

His unalterable purpose is to overcome and disgrace man, the exalted of creation, made in the image of his creator, "to have dominion over every living thing that moveth upon the earth."

So when this beast begins to purr and rub against you to be petted and stroked upon its glossy back, withhold your hand, summon your guardian angel to your assistance and soar with him to a loftier atmosphere where the environs are sweet and clean.

It is not possible to outwit and outmaneuver the despicable, invisible thing unless you do.

He is an adept creature capable of changing his spots at will, and simulating all human emotions—weakness, humility, sympathy, hate, pity, piety and affection, any one of which he can arouse when he suspects that you are in a mood to yield to his wishes.

So intimate is he with your thoughts, desires, passions, strength and weakness that he knows when to purr. He has the daring of a lion and the humility of a saint.

He commands himself to the peoples of the earth with the most insinuating art, occupied night and day giving full play to his skill and cunning.

He comes upon you when you would be alone, when you would step forward toward some exalted ideal, wrenches you from your pleasant pedestal and casts you down so softly that in falling there is nothing but delicious sensations of pleasure devoid of every semblance of fear or degradation.

He makes a good job of it unless by your superior will you shake him off. The bank clerk looking covetously upon stacks of money is being purrured to by the intimate beast, not yet sure of his victim. The young man or woman who forgets the tender, loving pleas of his or her solicitous mother, is always in danger when listening to the persuasive purr of the beast feigning sympathy.

"My beast," said the old man, "is stronger than I, for there are times when I cannot shake him off. He has been the bane of my existence, the cause of my sorrows and failures. Beware lest he ruin you!" Hearing this, the brute chuckled, and curled up for a nap.

Has Anyone Laughed At You Because—

By ETHEL R. PEYSER

You pun?

Never your mind, you get a laugh, don't you? They may laugh at you, but they do a lot of laughing with you, too. There are some awfully rapid puns, yet some of the wisest people in the world have made puns, and a great bulk of the jokes that people pay for seeing in the "movies" are puns, some good and some bad. I remember a "movie" where the puns in the titles made the "movie" a success. So let the heathen laugh at you, because they will have a laugh with you for entertaining them—if you don't do it to excess.

SO

Your get-away here is: Your puns are so clever that people who pun admit that you are a wit!

There is one advantage possessed by the man at the bottom—he has not so far to fall.

Men You May Marry

By E. R. PEYSER

Has a man like this proposed to you?

Symptoms: Very tall, broad face, large mouth, hair parted on side, slow stride, heavy tread. Likes to wear caps. He is very serious—life to him has been a struggle. Hasn't had any home, has lived on railroad trains and in nearly every city. Traveled a lot but not a traveling man type. Crazy to settle down in a small town—and be a big man in Y. M. C. A. and other quiet institutions. He likes you because you are lively. Coughs before he says anything he thinks is weighty.

IN FACT

He himself is more weighty than his words.

Mother's Cook Book

If I should be asked to name the quality most necessary to the best type of man, I should unhesitatingly choose optimism, for with it he is sure to be associated ambition, enthusiasm and self-confidence.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

IF YOUR family are fond of all kinds of shell fish they will enjoy:

Crab Meat and Red Peppers.

Remove the yolks of four hard-cooked eggs, mash and add two tablespoons of fine bread crumbs; chop the whites of the eggs fine and add a tablespoonful and a half of chopped red pepper. Put into a saucepan four tablespoons of butter; when melted, add the egg mixture and cook until smooth, adding a little at a time, a cupful of cream. Now add a cupful of crab meat, season highly and serve on circles of toast, well-buttered.

Sweet Potatoes With Apples.

Put one cupful of boiled sweet potatoes cut in thin slices in a buttered baking dish. Cover with three-fourths of a cupful of sliced apples, sprinkle with one-fourth cupful of brown sugar, dot with two tablespoonsful of butter, and sprinkle with one-half teaspoonful of salt; repeat. Bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Chicken Jelly.

Cut up a large chicken into small pieces. Pound each piece on a board until the flesh and bone is well-mashed. Put the chicken into a kettle; add a tablespoonful of salt and a quart of water. Simmer for several hours on the back of the stove, or put into a fireless cooker. Strain and pour into a mold. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing.

Different Dried Beef.

Put three tablespoonsful of bacon fat into a frying pan, add one-half pound of dried beef, cut into small pieces with the shears. Frizzle for three minutes, then place on a hot platter. Cut three bananas crosswise and in quarters lengthwise; let them cook in the frying pan long enough to become thoroughly hot. Arrange around the beef and serve piping hot.

Head Lettuce, Roquefort Dressing.

Arrange the tender leaves of head lettuce in a bowl; sprinkle with finely minced roquefort cheese; add a French dressing which has been highly seasoned with cayenne and a dash of onion juice. Serve at once. The cheese may be stirred into the dressing and passed in a bowl if desired.

Home Burglar Alarm System Easily Made

A BURGALAR alarm system for the home which can be made and installed by the home owner is one of the best insurances in the world against the "breaking and entry" gentry. While the ideal way to install such a system is while the house is being built, it can, nevertheless, be put in afterwards by anybody who is at all handy with tools.

The diagrams above practically tell the method, and they can be followed with little difficulty. The man who starts out to erect the system needs but a handful of tools. A half-inch wood chisel, a three-eighth inch gimlet, about eighteen inches long, a three inch floor chisel, a compass saw, a hammer and twenty-five feet of No. 14 iron wire will be sufficient to perform the job.

What Is Needed

For installation equipment he needs sufficient No. 18 bell wire to connect with the windows and doors and return to the switch board, a continuous ringer to operate the alarm bells, a four inch alarm bell for inside the house and an eight inch bell for outside, a switch for each window and door connection, a window contact spring for each protected window and a door spring for each door, and four dry batteries.

The ideal place to set up the dry cells and the switches is a closet in a second story bedroom. The sketch shows how it is done, putting the dry cells on a shelf and the switches on a seven-eighth inch wooden panel below. The wires leading through the house to the various doors and windows should be concealed as much as possible, in running them beneath the floor, the sketches show an easy way to lace them through the joists without having to disturb the flooring. Where the joists run in the same direction as the wire, the bell wire can be "fished" along between them for considerable distances.

Wiring Windows

The wires are brought to the contact springs in the window and door by taking off the moulding and running them inside. Both upper and lower sashes in windows should be protected. The window contact spring protrudes into the sash, as shown by the sketch, a half-moon about a half inch deep and an inch and one-half long being cut out. The contact spring and its wire connections are imbedded in the window frame. Anybody who has put a lock on a door will recognize a similar job of eniseling.

The sketches show how at the door, when it is opened, the plunger springs out, making contact and completing the circuit, and, at the window, the contact spring is forced back against the upright bar and also closes the circuit.

For Outside Bell

In the above drawing the wiring is shown for only the alarm bell inside the house. Where an outside bell is installed, the wire should not run between the points "A" and "A" but continue to the outside alarm bell and then back again. All doors and windows on the ground floor, doors opening upon balconies and windows overlooking porch roofs should be protected. The minute electric contact is made the alarm bells ring. The switch which, when opened, stops the ringing, will indicate the door or window where the attempt at entry has been made.

House Raided On Plank Road

Resort Alleged to Be Conducted by May Bush Cleaned Out by Troopers at Direction of District Attorney Traver—Three Women Arrested.

A raid planned by District Attorney Frederick G. Traver and carried out by a detail of State Troopers in cooperation with the sheriff's office
netted three women when the officers of the law descended upon the resort
alleged to be conducted by May Bush
on the Plank road in the town of Ulster at eleven o'clock Sunday night.

A quantity of wet goods was also seized and placed under seal by the troopers who conducted the raid.
As planned in advance, the detail
of troopers descended upon the house, which was formerly known as the Widow Keator farm. Armed with warrants they made a clean sweep of the premises, seizing a quantity of alleged liquor and arresting the proprietress and two girls who were in the place. Several men who were in the house were also examined by the troopers who after getting their names allowed them to go. The raiding party was in charge of Sergeant J. J. Cunningham and Sergeant Joseph Murphy of the State Troopers.

For some time the place alleged to be conducted by May Bush has been the source of considerable trouble and unfavorable comment
and Sunday night's raid went off without a hitch. The two girls and the proprietress were arrested without trouble when the troopers descended upon the house without warning. Several bottles and jars alleged to contain liquor were seized
before they could be spirited away.

The two girls arrested with May
Bush gave their names as Hazel
Williams of 125th Street, New York city, and Ethel Bartz of 32 Center street, Newark, N. J. The three will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Walter Webber of the town of Ulster. May Bush will be charged with operating a disorderly house,
a grand jury offense. The two girls will be charged with violation of section 43 of the penal law, a lesser charge, which will allow their case
to be disposed of by the justice, if he so desires. All three were brought to the county jail where they were held until taken out for a hearing before Judge Webber.

The members of the raiding party
were Sergeant J. J. Cunningham, Sergeant Murphy and Troopers Metz-er, Vandecarr, Coons, Zeaman and Freer.

While the raid was in progress
three cars containing several men
drove up to the place but the occupants evidently realized that a raid
was in progress and without waiting to investigate the cars were driven off at a fast clip over the rough road which runs from the main highway to the house.
When arraigned before Justice
Webber, the two girls were fined $25
each and sentenced to six months
each in jail. The jail sentence was suspended during good behavior.
May Bush was held to await the action of the grand jury in cash bail
of $750, which was furnished.

Garrison, sons, are named as executors. As the wife predeceased the

the estate, the sons and daughters
have signed a stipulation or agreement to a satisfactory distribution of the residuary estate. Peter Cantline, titioners.

The will of Alois Rauner of Ellenville has been admitted to probate.
Value of estate is $9,800 personal.
Frank A. Rauner and Bert H. Ter-williger are named as executors. The daughters. Raymond G. Cox is attorney for the petitioners.

city in the estate of Richard McGinness, who died intestate. The value

CARNIVAL SHOWS ARE CLOSED AT HIGHLAND

At the request of District Attorney
Traver, Sergeant Murphy of the State Troopers went to Highland Saturday night and closed up a number of shows which were being run
by the Exposition Shows carnival
which was showing in that village
under the auspices of the American Legion. Several of the shows were closed up by Sergeant Murphy when they were found to be gambling games. A complaint had been made to District Attorney Traver charging that gambling games were being run and he immediately had the shows closed by an officer who was stationed at the grounds until the carnival was brought to a close.

Auto Struck Boy Skull Fractured

Oscar Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Henry Snyder of Ulster avenue, ran into and seriously injured the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morse of Unionville, at that place,
about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.
The boy accompanied by his mother
was coming out of their yard when the little boy broke loose from his mother's hand and darted in front of the Dodge sedan, the fender and headlight of the car hitting him.
The fender was bent and the glass broke by the impact. It is said the accident was unavoidable. Dr. B.
W. Gifford was called and attended the boy who was hurried to the Benedictine Hospital as his injuries were of a serious nature. The accident was reported to the Sauger-ties police. This is the second accident that occurred from automobiles
in the past three weeks at that place. At the Benedictine Hospital it was found the boy's skull
was fractured.

Hylan Wears McAdoo Badge

Taken By Surprise By Georgia Delegation When He Made Speech And Shook Hands.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, June 23.—Georgia's
"red hot" McAdoo delegation
boomed into New York today, eager for the fray. They quickly joined Al Smith's New York to its toes by pinning a McAdoo badge on Mayor
John F. Hylan, Smith supporter.
The Georgians arrived on the steamship City of Montgomery, enroute to headquarters they stopped
at City Hall. Mayor Hylan came out to greet them.

The Mayor made a speech.
When the Mayor began shaking hands after his speech, Congressman W. D. Upshaw, candidate for vice-president, stepped up and pinned a badge on him.

The Mayor registered surprise,
then smiled broadly.
The hand struck up "Glory to Old Georgia."

THINGS UNUSUAL

By T. T. MAXEY
(S. 1134, Western Newspaper Union.)

THE METROPOLITAN MU- SEUM OF ART

The Metropolitan Museum of Art,
primarily a "show place," occupies
high rank among our great educational institutions. The largest and most important museum of art in the United States—the imposing structure
which houses the priceless treasures—
occupies a plot carved from the sacred precincts of Central park, New York.

The astonishing exhibits here displayed are a revelation and an education. One could spend a month here and not have time to absorb the full significance of all he saw.

A list of these exhibits would fill this entire paper. To give you an impression of the extent, variety and unusualness, I mention the following:

A teapot made by John Coney who engraved the plates for the first paper
money used in America and died more than two centuries ago; a room papered with wall paper which hung in an ancient home for more than 200
years; a collection of musical instruments, arranged by country and according to date; one of the richest collections of English glass in existence;
displays of ornamental pottery from distant lands; exhibits of oil paintings
and sculptures extraordinary, basketry, laces, crystal, jade—everything
one can think of and many things
which one does not think of.

Here are Roman frescoes from a Pompeian home overturned by an eruption of Mount Vesuvius in 79
A. D. There, a sarcophagus, found in Cyprus, dating back to about 600 B. C.

Outstanding features are caskets
and jewelry, the property of a princess
—only daughter of an Egyptian king who reigned about 1900 B. C., found in 1914 in the mud in the valley of the River Nile near one of the pyramids
and supposedly overlooked by rando-
ms when the tomb of the princess
was ransacked many years before;
the Tomb of Perneb, an Egyptian officer of the period about 4500 B. C., removed intact from its resting place in Egypt, borne by camels across the desert sands, shipped across the ocean
and set up in the museum, exactly as its builders left it. This tomb shows both the tremendous size and the dignity of the burial-ground architecture of the ancient Egyptians. Its brilliantly painted walls are silent reminders of the gayness of color with which these people associated the tomb of death as compared with the sombreness common in our day.

Doing One's Duty

Take good care of disagreeable duties. Attend to these first. Never select the things that you want to do,
and shirk upon others the things that you do not want to do. Choose the disagreeable things you will get to your manhood. You cannot grow in any other way so fast. You may be angry with some shiftless man, who is willing to put on you work that he ought to do himself, but you cannot afford to be unfaithful because somebody else is.—Henry Ward Beecher.

FARM STOCK

LONG-HAIRED GOATS GROWING IN FAVOR

While goats are among the oldest of domestic animals, in our own country they occupy a minor place in the farm economy. Yet "specialized"
goats, or "special purpose goats," we might better call them, can be made
a profitable adjunct to the live stock
program of most farms.

Growing in popularity and importance is the Angora goat, or long-haired "mohair" goat. These animals are great weed and brush eradicator,
and can be advantageously pastured
with horses, cattle, sheep or swine.
They are a godsend in timbered country and to clear land of weeds and brush. They are as easily kept as other farm animals and are usually hardy and rather more free from disease than ordinary live stock.

Well-bred Angoras are handsome, attractive and intelligent animals that are interesting to raise and profitable
for those who give them proper attention. Certain strains of Angoras are clean, white, nonpugnacious nonodor-ous animals that are a delight to young and old. These specially bred Angoras grow very long fleeces, and it is the extra long mohair that commands the fancy price. Some of this product is sold to be worth as high as $30 a pound. This means the longest portion of the clip, which is sorted and graded at shearing time and sold as extra long staple. The shorter mohair sells for $2 a pound—sometimes more,
and sometimes less, depending upon
the market.

In these days when many farmers
are looking around for ways and means
to diversify without materially increasing their farm equipment, the Angora ought to appeal to the enterprising as a source of profit—especially on cheap
or rough lands and on farms not quoted at fancy prices.

Sheep Give Big Profits Besides Clearing Land

Thirty farmers who raised sheep
chiefly for the purpose of clearing land
in 1923 made a profit of $26,828.53,
compilation of their reports to Oklahoma A. and M. college shows.

Fourteen of the sheep raisers sold
feed for the year did not cost them
anything, because the animals lived on weeds and waste. They did not include in their profits the value of the land the sheep cleared, or the cost of clearing by other methods.

Combined flocks of the group of 30
farmers counted 8,617 ewes January 1 last year. P. H. Lowery, live stock specialist in the extension division of the college, reports. They were valued at $22,765, thus showing the profit
to be nearly 120 per cent.

From the ewes on hand, 8,115
lambs were raised which sold for $21,853.28. Wool sheared from the combined flocks weighed 23,477
pounds, and was sold for $8,450.45.
Sixteen members of the group made a total charge of $3,671.20 for feed, reports to Lowery show.

Easy Way to Drive Sows to Prevent Excitement

At farrowing time it is not always an easy matter to drive a heavy brood sow from the yard into the pen in the hog house where she is to farrow. To save time and undue excitement of the sow, use a simple device that can easily be made.

Make a bottomless crate of light
but strong boards. The length of the crate ought to be at least six feet, a little longer than the largest sow to be handled and a little higher than the sow stands, say about three and one-half feet. The crate need not be clumsily or heavily made. It must be light enough for one man to carry.

When the sow is to be put in the pen is eating or nosing about the ground,
step up with the crate and quietly slip it over her. As she cannot turn around in it she will walk forward;
and as she walks, a man can guide
her to the door of the pen, lift up one end of the crate and allow her to walk into the pen.

Live Stock Notes

Do not expect to develop pure
breds with scrub treatment.

Scrub cattle on scrub pasture is scrub business policy.

Under present conditions the hog
will pay more for corn than will any dealer.

Ewes producing twin lambs must be well fed and looked after in order
to grow their lambs profitably.

Feed mature horses first and second cutting alfalfa, which is free from mold and dust. Never feed wet alfalfa hay to horses.

The man who constantly strives for
the lowest possible cost of production
is the man who will enjoy the greatest measure of success in the future.

The sow with pigs should have plenty of feed rich in protein. This may be had by feeding milk, clover,
alfalfa, soy beans, wheat bran, shorts,
linseed oil meal, or tankage.

Financial and Commercial

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, June 23.—Stock prices
were generally stronger in the first hour of today's session in the stock market, industrial stocks reflecting the improving sentiment with respect to industrial production, and oil stocks the reports of heavy consumption of gasoline over the week end.

The railroad stocks were again the leaders in speculative activity and prices for the better grade of dividend issues responded to the steady demand of investors for stocks of this class. Eries stocks led the market in the second grade rails, the common and first preferred equal-ling the best previous record for the year, while the second preferred
sold up to a new high at 33. New Haven reacted under profit taking
but subsequently recovered.

Renewed weakness in Atlantic Refining which broke six points to a new low at 89, did not have an unsettling effect on the other oil stocks,
most of which sold at fractionally
higher prices, than on Saturday.

Trading in the main bulk of industrial, steel, equipment and motor stocks was featureless. U. S. Steel was higher at the opening and most sales were made at slightly above Saturday's prices. There was no change in the money situation, call renewals loaning at 2 per cent.

K. of C. Lost At Saugerties

The Knights of Columbus team of this city dropped a hard game to the Saugerties Chevroletlets at the Saugerties diamond Sunday, score 6 to 5. Lady Luck see-sawed throughout the struggle, with the Knights not getting the lion's share of the luck.

The K. of C. combination cleaned one more hit than the winners, 9 to 8. Of the nine hits gathered, Jiggs Manning hit three.

The score was nip and tuck throughout and in the last inning with the score deadlocked at 5, the Saugerties team brought in the winning run. The errors at 2 each, was another even feature of the contest.

Colonials Get An Even Break With Oneonta

Flynn Hits Three Homers as Colonials Handily Win Saturday's Struggle—Sunday's Game Goes To Oneonta After a Hard Tussle.

The Colonials split even in their two games over the week end with the Oneonta Giants. The Saturday contest went to the Schrickmen 7 to 2 and the Sunday struggle to the Oneonta team 11 to 8.

In both games the local club again proved that it could hit with any of the semi-pro teams of the day. Four home runs featured the Saturday game, Flynn hitting three and Deegan the other. In Sunday's game with the score standing 11 to 0 in the third inning, the local team clouted 10 hits for a total of 8 runs.

Saturday's Game.

Johnny Flynn, covering short stop for the Colonials, played the leading role in Saturday's game, when he collected more than three home runs for himself off Lefty Davis. In the opening inning, with Dugan on first base, Flynn lifted one over right field. The next turn to bat Flynn made his second hit, knocking down a single. The third trip to the bag, with Culliton on first, Flynn hit his second homer of the day. The third home run and fourth hit of the day was made in his next appearance at the plate. Three home runs, and four out of five safeties, is not so bad in any ball game.

Dewey, the Colonial second sacker, also showed how when right he also could hit handily. Out of four trips to the plate he hit as many safeties, getting a perfect day with the big club. Matty Deegan also hit for the circuit in this struggle. Lefty Davis was found for twelve hits.

But one error was marked up in this contest and that by Faye, the Oneonta short stop.

Sunday's Game a Thriller.

Morgan started in the box for the Schrickmen on Sunday, but he didn't last very long. In the second inning with four runs in and still the bags loaded and not yet an out, Morgan was derelict and Culliton given the hurling assignment. Before the Giants were retired in the second stanza, nine runs were chalked up. Nine runs in one inning was something new in the kind of contests that usually develop at the Fair Grounds. Thomas's club was not satisfied with the nine runs, but came back in the third inning and made two more for a total of 11.

Walsh pitching for the Giants was very effective for the first three innings, and he looked as if he was going to give the local club a few lessons. But this didn't happen. In the fourth inning the Schrickmen bolted in two runs, a like amount in the fifth and four runs in the sixth. In the seventh inning, Davis replaced Walsh and the locals were stopped scoring. The big inning was the life savor for the Giants.

Of the 15 hits gleaned by the victors, Thomas led with three. Dugan, Deegan and McLaughlin each gathered two hits of the Colonials' total of 10.

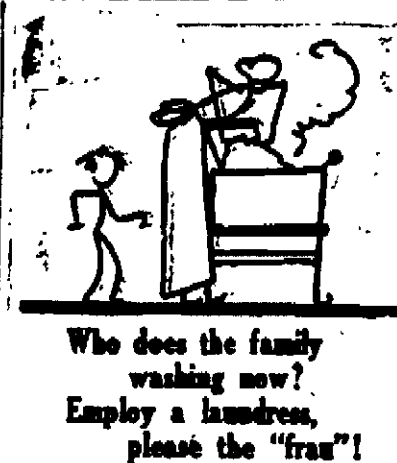

Schwab batted for Culliton in the eighth inning. Contant pitched the last inning and after loading the bases, pulled out without a run scored.

Po'keepsie Won Championship

OF DUSO League By Defeating Local Team Saturday—K. H. S. Players Err Eight Times, Throwing Away the Game and the Crown.

For the second time in two years Kingston High and Poughkeepsie High have been tied for the championship of the DUSO League. For the second time, Poughkeepsie has won the deciding contest.

Saturday afternoon at the Red Hook diamond, Poughkeepsie trimmed the local high school team 11 to 7. The teams were evenly matched for the game. Both teams succeeded in getting 12 hits. The errors of the local team in the pinches and the timely hits of Poughkeepsie were the deciding factors.

Lawrence pitched good ball, having 7 strikeouts to his credit. The support which he received was poor, eight errors being chalked up against his teammates.

Campbell had 9 strikeouts. The Poughkeepsie team made only four errors but kept them scattered, thus they did no harm.

Neither team scored in the first three innings. In the fourth inning, two hits a fielders choice and an error allowed the locals two runs.

Poughkeepsie was held scoreless until the sixth, when three errors, two hits and a fielders choice gave Poughkeepsie three runs. The locals made one run in their half of the sixth. A hit by Ummerle and a two bagger by Lawrence doing the work. On the seventh, Poughkeepsie made one run. Two hits, accompanied by two errors put the run across. The locals were unable to score in the seventh and eighth innings.

In the eighth inning, three errors by the locals, 4 hits and a base on balls contributed seven runs to Poughkeepsie making a total of eleven.

The locals rallied in the ninth but were unable to make enough to win the game. Four hits, by Knight, Vogt, McLane and Hauser, Howard's free passage and an error made it possible for the locals to score four runs for a total of seven.

Saturday's game finished the season for the local high school.
